

Carol Ann lives near Nashville, Tennessee. Her love for sewing began at the age of 7, making Barbie doll clothes and the passion to play with fabric began. Carol Ann earned an associates degree in business management while raising three small children. She successfully managed Joann Fabric stores for several years. She is also an accomplished floral designer. After moving to Nashville in 2001, she became an interior decorator. Carol Ann and her husband, Charlie, owned and operated a brick and mortar store selling furniture and accessories, and offering interior design services. Now, at the doorstep of retirement, Carol Ann is well satisfied earning a SHE degree. She has 3 children, 7 grandchildren and 3 stepchildren.

Carol Ann bought her first longarm in the fall of 2012, and she has not looked back since. Her dream of becoming a quilter had finally come true! Within a year, she was custom free-motion quilting for several customers. She became involved with Accomplish Quilting in Goodlettsville, Tennessee, where she has taught a variety of sewing and quilting classes. She loves to teach quilting feathers and fillers...and, well, anything and everything related to quilting. A quilt she designed herself, "Game on Jack" won the Judges Choice Award at the MQX show in 2017. Carol Ann also enjoys teaching at local quilt guilds and was President of Piecemakers quilt guild in 2018. Her motto is, "It is my job to make each custom quilt that my customers bring to me even more beautiful. I love this challenge. I enjoy sharing with others what I have learned on my own. If I can learn to make beautiful feathers, so can they."
