

Kathleen Rountree is a classical musician and university professor. She has performed across three continents as a concert pianist and chamber musician and has served as a University Dean and Vice President. She is also an internationally noted fiber artist and quilter. Her work has appeared - and sometimes won prizes - at important national and international shows, including:

Quilts Unlimited

Mid-Atlantic Quilt Festival

Savannah Quilt Fest

Road to California

QuiltWeek Paducah, Daytona, and Savannah

Pacific International Quilt Festival

The Pennsylvania National Quilt Extravaganza

Houston International Quilt Festival

As her works are becoming more well known, they are appearing in museums and galleries, including a solo exhibition at the Virginia Quilt Museum, a solo show at the McLean Textile Gallery in McLean, Virginia in 2021, and an invitation to mount an Artist's Gallery at the Birmingham Festival of Quilts in 2020 (unfortunately canceled due to COVID). She is active in festivals and competitions, both as a participant and a judge, on both the East and West coasts of the US.

Kathleen lives in the beautiful Blue Ridge mountains of North Carolina with her husband and two cats. Approximately half of the space in her home is filled by quilting machines, fabric, and tools. In addition to making show quilts, she is involved in the creation of quilts to be donated to people in need. She is an enthusiastic and kind quilt show judge and considers having the opportunity to judge to be an honor and a gift from the quiltmaker.
